Touchdown Donatello:™
The Surface Surfin' Space Dude!

It's true! The Turtle has landed! In fact, four of them have followed in the glorious space path of the Apollo 11 astronauts who boldly blasted off toward the moon. Today, the technology has gotten a little better and Touchdown Donatello's ready to take the chance, cuz he's heard rumors about there bein' pepperoni 'round the polar parts of the moon. If that's so, then it'll be a spicy space ride, for sure! Just to make things go smoothly, Touchdown Donatello's equipped with a self-contained environmental pack (SEP) and a hero hose for surefired breathing. And to crown his achievement on his moon mission, Touchdown Donatello's ready to proudly display the astro-American flag.
